The Queen has been beheaded, 19 May 1536

Anne Boleyn was beheaded at the Tower of London today. Her crime? It is said that she planned to kill her husband, King Henry VIII. Anne Boleyn said that the king was angry because they never got a son. He really wanted a son to take over the crown. He divorced his last wife for the same reason. Now he is planning his next marriage...

The crowning of a new queen, 15 January 1559

Elizabeth Tudor was crowned Elizabeth I in the church Westminster Abbey in London today. She had a difficult start in life but now she looked happy. Her mother, Anne Boleyn, was beheaded and then her first stepmother died. Her father, Henry VIII, divorced the next one, beheaded the one after that and died when he had his sixth wife.

A lot of waving from Buckingham Palace, 11 June 2016

The yellow, red and blue flag at Buckingham Palace was waving in the wind today! It means the Queen is at home. Queen Elizabeth II and the royal family were waving from the balcony. The reason was Trooping the Colour. It is a military parade and a celebration of the monarch's birthday. People were waving flags everywhere.

A servant got lost at Windsor Castle, 20 April 2019

Queen Elizabeth II is staying at her weekend home, Windsor Castle. It was first built as a fortress in 1080 and then rebuilt in stone. There are almost one thousand rooms. Rumour says one of the new servants got lost in the enormous castle. It took him hours to find his way back to his room.

The Queen has been beheaded, 19 May 1536

The Tower of London by the River Thames has served as a place of execution today. Anne Boleyn was beheaded after a short period of imprisonment in the Tower. Her crime? It is said that she planned to kill her husband, King Henry VIII. Friends of Anne Boleyn say that the king was in fact frustrated. Why? Well, probably because they only got a daughter during their three years of marriage. He desperately wanted a son to take over the crown. His former wife Catherine, whom he divorced, also just gave him a daughter. The king promised Anne that she would be beheaded with a sword instead of an axe. That was nice of him but now he is planning his next marriage...

The crowning of a new queen, 15 January 1559

Elizabeth Tudor was crowned Elizabeth I in Westminster Abbey in London today. The church has held all coronations in the nation since 1066. It was a beautiful ceremony in both Latin and English. Queen Elizabeth looked very happy afterwards. As we all know she had a rough start in life. Her mother, Anne Boleyn, was executed and then her first stepmother died. Her father, Henry VIII, divorced the next one, beheaded the one after that and was finally outlived by his sixth wife. No wonder Queen Elizabeth says that she never wants to get married.

A lot of waving from Buckingham Palace, 11 June 2016

The square yellow, red and blue flag at Buckingham Palace was waving in the wind today! It means the Queen is at home. A happy crowd could see Queen Elizabeth II waving from the balcony. What was the occasion? Well, it was the Trooping the Colour which is the annual celebration of the monarch's birthday. Above all it is a military parade that dates back to the 1600s when the soldiers needed to recognize the colour of their regiment's flag. Today the streets were lined with people waving flags while parading soldiers, horses and musicians passed by. The royal family was gathered at the balcony of Buckingham Palace and waved to the crowds.

A servant got lost at Windsor Castle, 20 April 2019

Queen Elizabeth II is staying at her weekend retreat, Windsor Castle. It is the largest and oldest occupied fortress in the world. It dates all the way back to 1080 when it was first built as a fortress by William the Conqueror. It was rebuilt in stone almost one hundred years later. Kings have kept rebuilding it in different styles which were modern in their times. Now there are almost one thousand rooms. Rumour says one of the new servants got lost in the enormous castle. It took him hours to find his way back to his room.

1. Where was Anne Boleyn beheaded?
2. Why didn't Henry VIII want to stay married to his first two wives?
3. How many wives did Henry VIII have?
4. Where did Queen Elizabeth II live?
5. How old is the tradition of Trooping the Colour?
6. What do you think Windsor Castle was built out of to begin with?
7. Why did a servant get lost in Windsor Castle?
